JOIN US FOR OUR FOURTH ANNUAL SYMPOSIUM

The Wellness Real Estate & Communities Symposium gathers top business executives, health and wellness leaders, architects and investors in the wellness real estate sector to explore opportunities in what is still the fastest-growing sector of the now $6.3T wellness industry. Symposium attendees and sponsors will learn the latest research, make connections with insiders in this sector, and gain insights from the thought leaders shaping the future of Wellness Real Estate & Communities.

At the Symposium, Global Wellness Institute (GWI) will release updated research on this accelerating sector in a new report, Build Well to Live Well: The Future. This report will focus on the indisputable business case and wellness case for investing in healthier built environments, provide updated definitions and core principles for understanding wellness real estate, highlight case studies across different types of properties and target markets, and capture the diverse developments in this global sector.

INCLUDES EXCLUSIVE VIP RECEPTION AT BBC STUDIOS

All registered in-person attendees and sponsors are invited to an exclusive evening VIP Reception Monday, June 16, 6-8pm at the iconic BBC Studios in New York. BBC Studios is home to BBC Storyworks, producers of the award-winning In Pursuit of Wellness series for the Global Wellness Institute.
