

WELLNESS REAL ESTATE & COMMUNITIES SYMPOSIUM

NEW YORK CITY | TUESDAY, MAY 12, 2026

REAL ESTATE THROUGH A WELLNESS LENS

The Wellness Real Estate & Communities Symposium brings together the leaders shaping the fastest-growing sector of the $6.8 trillion global wellness economy. Senior executives, developers, investors, architects, designers, and health innovators convene to explore the business opportunity and long-term impact of building environments that actively support human health.

For sponsors, this is a rare opportunity to align your brand with the forefront of a defining industry shift. Attendees gain access to the latest research, meaningful connections with decision-makers, and insight from the thought leaders driving the future of wellness real estate and communities.

At the Symposium, the Global Wellness Institute will release updated sector research in Build Well to Live Well: GCC Case Studies. The report outlines the clear business case and wellness case for investing in healthier built environments, defines core principles shaping the market, and showcases global case studies across property types and target markets.

INCLUDES EXCLUSIVE VIP RECEPTION

All registered in-person attendees and sponsors are invited to an exclusive evening VIP Reception on Monday, May 11. This private gathering offers high-value networking in an intimate setting, creating space for meaningful conversations, relationship-building, and elevated brand visibility among industry leaders.
