

GLOBAL WELLNESS SUMMIT

Influence

GWS is the single most powerful and influential gathering of thought leaders and decision makers across all industries that touch wellness globally. Any company with either a mandate or a desire to positively impact their employees, partners, constituents, would benefit from a formal alliance with GWS.

Often referred to as the “Davos of Wellness,” the GWS brings together decision makers from around the world to exchange ideas, debate and strategize for the good of the industries influenced by wellness, the consumers we serve and the planet we share.

Within the past decade, wellness went from being a rarely used term to becoming an unstoppable global movement that today is viewed as having one of the most important positive opportunities coming out of the COVID-19 pandemic.

The iconic "bubble chart" produced by the Global Wellness Institute as part of the Global Wellness Economy Monitor, is the benchmark for defining and valuating the global wellness economy.

GLOBAL WELLNESS ECONOMY: $6.8 trillion in 2024

Global Wellness Trends Report

“The GWS Annual Trends Report is the most influential in the industry.”

Each year, the GWS identifies new trends that will have meaningful impact on the multi-trillion-dollar wellness industry. Significantly, this is the only wellness forecast that draws from the insights of the hundreds of global executives who attend the annual Summit. In addition, the GWS Trends incorporate the perspectives of renowned economists, medical and wellness professionals, academics and leaders across all sectors of the wellness industry.

Wellness Master Class

Since its inception in March of 2020, the Wellness Master Class series has attracted thousands of participants from over 90 countries. Featuring a wellness leader in conversation with GWS' Chief Creative Officer and Executive Director, this is an intimate, provocative discussion that has become a signature element of the GWS.

Annual Press Event

The Global Wellness Institute (GWI) and the Global Wellness Summit (GWS) co-host an annual New York Press Event where GWI researchers present their latest wellness research and GWS issues its hotly anticipated annual wellness trends report.

Real Estate Symposium

Our Real Estate Symposium gathers top business leaders in the wellness real estate sector to explore opportunities in the wellness industry. We share the latest research shaping the future of Wellness Real Estate and make connections between thought leaders and insiders in this sector.
